We no longer support John Kasich and neither will the vast majority of Ohioans when they learn about John's refusal to do anything about the serious crimes committed by the private "Christian" school that got caught by the Columbus Dispatch newspaper during the school's Conspiracy of Criminal Negligence, Deception, Fraud, and Cover-Ups against thousands of parents, including John Kasich.

Refer to the irrefutable and overwhelming evidence at <http://NotKasich.com> and <http://ABCsOfBetrayal.com>

That music was great to calm me down and have a fun rest of the show. I love that kind of music, and 1950's and 1960's stuff. Oldies, but goodies. :)

Hey Vince,
I was very happy to hear those young people on your show. It's great to know that the coming generation is bringing a high moral standard with them. Keep it up.

I hear again and again Nick Anthony mention about him have to pay for children or tax payers money. It's like he basically is infering that money is more important than a humans life. It says the "Love of Money is the root of all evil."

Thank you so much for asking Mr. Drury my questions. I also believe being a Christian is about a relationship & not belonging to a Church. Thank you for not being shy about asking it. I also listened to the music themes before hand & what memories it brought up. May God Bless you both.

I'm glad the show has expanded to 3 hours, but even so, time still seems to run out with lots more that could be discussed, sure sign of a good program. Each week the Vince Daniels show is either thought-provoking or nostalgia-providing, and often both. If you've not heard this show (or even heard it regularly) do yourself a favor and catch it every chance you get, you'll be glad you did! Keep it up, Vince!

Your Tribute to John Denver was very special. I would have preferred your Placido Domingo version of "Perhaps Love", and a slower version of your final number, but I'll forgive you. I got a few friends to listen from OR. John Denver CDs are a ritual when I am on road trips...blasting the speakers, and singing as loud as humanly possible. Thanks again.

I remember Vince's epic Many Moods shows a couple of years ago, particularly the ones where he was instrumental in sounding the death knell for the scientology run "Narconon" bogus drug rehab centre at Stonehawk MI.

Thanks to the webcast streaming, those shows had an appreciative worldwide audience.

Well done Vince. All the best for the future.
